

Are you working with NAGPRA collections?

CollectionSpace is here to help.

As a web-based, open-source collections management system designed for and by cultural heritage organizations and museums, we are committed to supporting our community in the stewardship and repatriation of Indigenous collections.

How does CollectionSpace support NAGPRA work?

We released 8.1 which features exclusive procedures for documenting Repatriation Requests, Consultation, Duty of Care, Held in Trust, Inventories, and Summaries.

We are developing a best practice guide for working with NAGPRA collection data.

We are seeking ways to support tribal communities in managing their repatriation work.

Through Lyrasis, we provide trusted hosting and support solutions to ensure your data is safe.
